Tasting notes

Dark forest berries in the nose with nuances of violets. Nose is quite restrained. On the palate and impressively slilky and dense dark, mature berries and forest floor tones in the background. It is easy to drink, no, to chew, so flavorful it is with its ripe, silky tannins!

About the wine

Château Plat Faisant sits on the heights of Saint-Vincent-Rive-d'Olt above the Lot river, on clay-limestone soils. This Malbec comes from vines around 20 years old and is aged in neutral stainless steel to keep the fruit pure. Cahors was once famed as the "black wine" for its inky colour; locally Malbec is called Côt.
