Tasting notes

Cabernet Sauvignon from a single 1.6-hectare vineyard in Isla de Maipo, with a little Malbec and Petit Verdot. A layered nose of cassis and red fruit; medium-bodied, with fresh acidity, real tension and a very long finish. Lovely now, and it will keep evolving for 15–20 years.

About the wine

The grapes come from the Santa Inés vineyard in Isla de Maipo. After eight days of cold maceration they ferment spontaneously at 22–24°C; the wine then spends 4 months in neutral French barrels and 14 more in 2,500-litre foudres. De Martino has been family-run since 1934, when Italian immigrant Pietro De Martino founded it.
