Tasting notes

Straw yellow colour with an intense nose, with wildflowers and white-pulp fruits, on the palate, fruity and refreshing, well rounded with good acidity for a lingering finish.

About the wine

The hand-picked Arneis is split: part is pressed straight away, part has about ten hours of cold skin contact at 10°C. Fermentation runs at 18°C in steel, followed by a short rest on the lees. In Piedmontese dialect 'arnèis' means a little rascal; the grape was close to extinction in the 1970s before Roero revived it.

Winemaking

MATURATION	Refined in stainless steel tanks, on fine lees, for 3 months, with weekly "battonage".

Cellar and service

SERVE AT	7–8 °C
FOOD PAIRING	Good for pairing with shellfish, fish, appetizers and pasta.
